Biographical Information:

I came to earth in the 1800's and lived in the 13 colonies of what was to become the United States. I wanted to see the inception of the country that would become the focal point of Illuminati dark focus on your planet. It was interesting. I didn't live long. It was a treacherous time as the country was newly formed. There was still a lot of disease, poverty and suffering, especially in the wintertime. I travelled around to the west as well because I wanted to see the development there. It was more lawless than the east was, and that means lot. I died at 40 years old. I had typhus.

Me: So I picked this up off of wikipedia. There was an epidemic in the 1800's. "The 1847 North American typhus epidemic is caused by a massive Irish emigration, during the Great Famine. ... By 1950, researchers would show by clinical and serological data that the cause of Brill's disease was rickettsia prowazekii, the same agent responsible for epidemic typhus."

Soren: Well, I died in it. But it was long enough to understand. That's what I wanted to do – understand the roots of our focus later on.

Me: So how about your life now? No typhus outbreaks, I assume.

Soren: No! We live quite comfortably. My mate Marlia and I. I feel for your people. They have had a terrible past and then are born again to continue without much change in many ways.

My interests include being a father to our two sons, and I do play some sports. We have running challenges and I often do well. I like to stay fit and healthy.

Me: Okay thank you. And welcome back to earth!

Soren: (laughing) I'm not getting too close this time. We are on the ground but we are being cautious not to get sick.

Me: Could you pick something up here?

Soren: Not likely, but it's always possible so we're careful.

Me: Thank you Soren, and for your service.

Soren: My love to all.
